Report of Independent Auditors

Governing Council
The Wilderness Society
Washington, DC

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of The Wilderness Society (the Society), which comprise the statements of financial position as of September 30, 2014 and 2013 and the related statements of activities and cash flows for years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Wilderness Society as of September 30, 2014 and 2013 and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matter

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The Statement of Functional Expenses for the year ended September 30, 2014 on page 23 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from, and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

The Wilderness Society

Notes to Financial Statements

Years ended September 30, 2014 and 2013

Note A - Organization and Purpose

The Wilderness Society (the Society) is the leading American conservation organization working to protect wild places within our nation's public lands-the 635 million acres collectively owned by the American people and managed by our government. From well-known icons to hidden gems, these wildlands provide us all with clean air and water; abundant wildlife; havens for recreation, learning, and solitude; and a foundation for a healthy planet. They are also important sources of renewable energy and vital natural resources that must be managed wisely.

Since its founding in 1935, the Wilderness Society has led the efforts to permanently protect as wilderness 110 million acres in 44 states, from rich hardwood forests in the East, stunning deserts in the Southwest, and snowcapped peaks in the Rockies to old-growth forests in the Pacific Northwest and tundra in Alaska. From the revolutionary 1964 Wilderness Act to the landmark 2009 bill that permanently protected more than two million acres of wilderness across the country, the Wilderness Society has been at the forefront of nearly every major public victory over the past 75 years. Our work has profoundly improved the way our shared national lands are managed and enjoyed.

We bring a unique breadth of expertise to public land issues; our staff are recognized leaders in the fields of natural resource science, policy, economics, and outreach. From Capitol Hill and federal agencies to communities across the nation, we work strategically and collaboratively with land managers, decision makers, and other interested citizens to find common-ground solutions. These solutions- tested on the ground and embedded in national policy-lead to better protection, stewardship and restoration of our public lands, preserving our rich natural legacy for current and future generations.

Today, with more than 500,000 active members and supporters, the Society continues its vital mission to protect wilderness and inspire Americans to care for our wild places.

The Society categorizes its program service work as "Wilderness and Wild Lands Conservation" and "Outreach and Public Education." This division mirrors the two halves of our mission statement: "To protect wilderness and inspire Americans to care for our wild places."

Wilderness/Wild Lands Conservation

The Society's approach to conservation addresses five critical areas of concern: protective designations, land stewardship and restoration, energy development, climate change, and recreation.

Outreach and Public Education

The Society's public communications includes a highly respected website, an annual magazine and membership newsletters published three times a year (the Society's newsletter won a gold medal award in 2010 from the Association of Marketing and Communication Professionals). There are 490,000 Wild Alert subscribers who hear from us weekly on a range of issues linked to legislation, local conservation questions and land-agency policies.

Note B - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of accounting

The Society presents its financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP) promulgated by the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification (the guidance). Accordingly, the cost of the Society's programs and other activities has been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. Additionally, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited. Salaries and benefits for employees who perform both program and support services are charged to those functions based on the approximate level of effort spent in each function.

Subsequent events

The Society has performed an evaluation of subsequent events through January 6, 2015, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued and has considered any relevant matters in the preparation of the financial statements and footnotes.

Use of estimates

GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported amounts and classifications of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Accordingly, actual results could differ from these estimates.

Income taxes

The Society is exempt from Federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) and is not a private foundation under Section 509(a) of the IRC. The Society is required to pay federal and state income taxes only on unrelated business income. Management has concluded that the Society has properly maintained its exempt status and there are no uncertain tax positions as of September 30, 2014. The three previous tax years are subject to examination by taxing authorities; there are currently no examinations being conducted.

Risk and uncertainties

The Society invests in various securities. These securities are exposed to a variety of risks, such as interest rates, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the amount reported in the statements of financial position.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Society considers cash and cash equivalents to include all highly liquid investments with original maturities of 90 days or less. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) insures amounts on deposit with each financial institution up to limits prescribed by law. The Society may hold funds with financial institutions in excess of the FDIC insured amounts; however, the Society has not experienced any losses in such accounts and management believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

Investments and fair value measurements

Investments are recorded at fair value. Investment income or loss, including realized and unrealized gains and losses, is included in the statements of activities as an increase or decrease in unrestricted net assets unless the income or loss is restricted by donor or law.

Dividend and interest income are considered operating revenue of the Society. Realized and unrealized gains and losses above the spending rate approved by the Governing Council are not used in operations and, therefore, are reported as temporarily restricted in the statements of activities as gain on investments.

In accordance with GAAP, the Society prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3). The levels of the hierarchy are as follows:

Level 1 – Inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in actively traded markets which the Society has the ability to access.

Level 2 – Inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability and market-corroborated inputs.

Level 3 – Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable for the asset or liability and are significant to the fair value measurement.

The Society recognizes transfers between levels at the end of the reporting period in which circumstances occur causing changes in the availability of inputs to the fair value techniques.

Planned giving assets and liabilities

The Society maintains a pooled income fund for planned giving investments. Donors contribute to the Society an irrevocable remainder interest in property while they reserve the right to income from the property. The Society recognizes its remainder interest in the assets received as temporarily or permanently restricted contribution revenue in the period the assets are received. The contribution is recorded at the fair value of the asset discounted over the actuarially estimated time period until the donor's death.

Charitable gift annuity contributions are recorded net of the present value of the liability of the future annuity payments. The rate used to calculate the net present value is the adjusted discount rate for the month in which the gift is made. The value of the liability is adjusted to reflect amortization of the discount, payments to the donor, and changes in actuarial assumptions.

Charitable remainder trusts are recorded at the present value of estimated future cash flows. The discount rate used to calculate the net present value of the estimated future cash flows for the years ended September 30, 2014 and 2013 was 2%. The value of the trust liability is adjusted to reflect amortization of the discount and changes in actuarial assumptions related to interest rate fluctuations or other variables.

Earnings generated by planned giving investments are recorded as liabilities to cover commitments to the beneficiaries of planned giving agreements. The change in the actuarial value of planned giving assets is recorded as change in value of beneficial interest in the statements of activities.

The beneficial interest in assets held by others for which the Society does not serve as trustee, amounted to $7,123,663 and $8,111,393 as of September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, and is recorded in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets in the accompanying statements of financial position. Of these amounts, $302,200 and $312,800, is included within accounts receivable as of September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively as it is due within one year. It is the policy of the Society to record such assets only when the Society's interest is deemed to be irrevocable and where there is sufficient information to quantify a fair and accurate valuation. The Society's beneficial interest is recorded at the discounted present value of the gift, based on the date of gift and the trust life. Trust assets include publicly traded U.S. stock, corporate and government bonds, mutual funds, property and land, and life insurance policies. Amounts received related to these beneficial interests are used for purposes designated by the donor, if any.

The change in the actuarial valuation of total planned giving agreements, including those held by third parties, is recorded in the statements of activities. The change in value of these agreements was $1,682,934 and $(693,126) for the years ended September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

Contributions receivable

Contributions receivable that are expected to be collected within one year are reported net of any estimated uncollectible amounts. Contributions expected to be collected beyond one year are reported net of any estimated uncollectible amounts and are discounted to present value using the United States Treasury obligations risk-adjusted rates according to their corresponding terms.

Allowance for uncollectible contributions

The Society has established an allowance for uncollectible contributions. Although variability is inherent in such estimates, management believes that the allowance provided in the financial statements is adequate, but largely dependent on economic conditions.

Fixed assets

Furniture and equipment expenditures over $1,000 are recorded at cost and are depreciated under the straight-line method, with estimated useful lives ranging from three to ten years. Leasehold improvements are recorded at cost and are amortized over the shorter of their useful lives or the remaining term of the lease.

Endowments

The Society is a not-for-profit organization that is subject to an enacted version of the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act of 2006 (UPMIFA). Therefore, the net asset classification of donor restricted endowment funds is presented in accordance with the related accounting guidance and disclosures.

Classification of net assets

The Society's net assets have been grouped into the following three classes:

Unrestricted net assets - result from contributions and other inflows of assets whose use by the Society is not limited by donor-imposed restrictions.

Temporarily restricted net assets - result from contributions and other inflows of assets whose use is limited by donor-imposed restrictions that either expire with the passage of time or can be fulfilled and removed by actions of the Society related to those restrictions.

Permanently restricted net assets - result from contributions and other inflows of assets whose use by the Society is limited by donor-imposed restrictions, that must be maintained in perpetuity by the Society.

Restricted and unrestricted revenues

Unconditional promises to give cash and other assets are reported at fair value at the date the promise is received. The promises are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted depending on donor-imposed restrictions. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or the purpose of the restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified as unrestricted net assets and are reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restriction.

Allocation of joint costs of informational materials

In 2014 and 2013, the Society incurred joint costs of $4,487,252 and $3,483,834, respectively, for informational materials and activities that included fundraising appeals. Of those costs, $868,978 and $912,023, respectively, were allocated to public education expense, $2,787,197 and $1,869,764, respectively were allocated to management and general, and $831,077 and $675,047, respectively, remained in fundraising.

There were no transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy in 2014 and 2013.

In accordance with GAAP, assets above are classified as level 1 as their fair values are based on quoted prices for identical assets in actively traded markets. Level 2 assets as their fair values are based on prices for similar or identical assets in non-active markets including pricing that is obtained directly from broker-dealers. The beneficial interest in assets held by others are classified as level 3 assets as their fair values are derived from inputs to the valuation methodology that are unobservable for the asset and are based on actuarial assumptions such as mortality rates and the applicable federal rate for charitable gifts. These assumptions are significant to the fair value measurement.

Note D - Endowment Funds

The Society's endowment consists of four individual funds established for a variety of purposes. Its endowment consists of donor-restricted endowment funds. As required by GAAP, net assets associated with endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

Interpretation of Relevant Law

The Governing Council of The Wilderness Society has interpreted the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA) as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the Society classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the organization in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by UPMIFA.

Note D - Endowment Funds (Continued)

In accordance with UPMIFA, the Society considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

- The duration and preservation of the fund;
- The purposes of the organization and the donor-restricted endowment fund;
- General economic conditions;
- The possible effect of inflation and deflation;
- The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments;
- Other resources of the organization; and
- The investment policies of the organization.

Return Objectives and Risk Parameters

The Society has adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Endowment assets consist of those assets of donor-restricted funds that the Society must hold in perpetuity or for a donor-specified period(s). Under this policy, as approved by the Governing Council, the endowment's assets are invested in a manner that is intended to produce results that exceed the price and yield results of a benchmark including 75% S&P 500 index and 25% Barclays Capital Aggregate Bond Index. The Society expects its endowment funds, over time, to provide an average rate of return of approximately 6 percent annually. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

Strategies Employed for Achieving Objectives

To satisfy its long-term rate-of-return objectives, the Society relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest and dividends). The Society targets a diversified asset allocation to achieve its long-term return objectives within prudent risk constraints.

Spending Policy and How the Investment Objectives Relate to Spending Policy

The Society has a policy of appropriating for distribution each year 5 percent of its endowment fund's average fair value over the prior 12 quarters through the calendar year-end proceeding the fiscal year in which the distribution is planned. In establishing this policy, the Society considered the long-term expected return on its endowment. Accordingly, over the long term, the Society expects the current spending policy to allow its endowment to grow at an average sufficient to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets held in perpetuity or for a specified term as well as to provide additional real growth through new gifts and investment return.

This collection cannot be sold and must be displayed in a museum-quality setting, or the photographs must be returned to the donor. The appraised value of these photographs is approximately $2,255,500 and $1,897,000 in 2014 and 2013, respectively. Due to the stipulations related to the custody of the photographs, these assets are not included in the financial statements.

The Society also owns various other donated art work that is not subject to donor conditions. This collection includes 11 Ansel Adams photographs valued at their original fair value of $125,950 as assessed at the time of their donation. This collection is included in other assets on the accompanying statements of financial position.

Note H - Obligations Under Facility and Other Leases

The Society has entered into various operating lease agreements for office space at both its headquarters and its field offices, as well as operating leases for various office equipment. Rent expense, rent abatements, and other concessions are recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease, with the difference between the straight-line rent and the actual rent payments being recorded as deferred rent in the accompanying statements of financial position. Occupancy expense under operating leases was $3,032,432 and $3,398,231 in 2014 and 2013, respectively.

The Society's future minimum payments for occupancy and equipment under noncancelable operating leases as of September 30, 2014 are:

Note N - Line of Credit

The Society maintained an open end revolving line of credit up to $3,000,000 at any one time with SunTrust Bank (SunTrust) that terminated in May 2014. Repayment terms required principal to be paid in full on the maturity date with accrued interest payable monthly based on one-month LIBOR rate plus 1%. The Society granted SunTrust a security interest in and a lien upon all deposits and investments maintained by the Society with SunTrust and its affiliates. The Society paid interest of $0 and $17,955 for the years ended September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, in connection with this line of credit. As of September 30, 2014 and 2013, no amounts were outstanding and due related to the line of credit.

Note O - Self-Insured Health Plan

The Society provides self-insured health benefits for its eligible employees. Under the Program, which was amended effective January 1, 2014, the Society pays the administrative fees and benefit claims of its employees. Individual losses in excess of $50,000 per year are insured by a third-party insurance carrier.

The Society had claims payable and incurred but not reported claims liability of $141,161 at September 30, 2014, which is included in accounts payable and accrued expenses in the accompanying statement of financial position. Additionally, the claims paid under this program were $481,366 for the year ended September 30, 2014.

It is inherently difficult to estimate the liability for claims payable and incurred but not reported due to the unknown nature of the claims and the potentially lengthy settlement process. This significant estimate is based on management's best estimate and judgment, and may be adjusted as more current information becomes available. Resulting adjustments could be material.
